

“Just look at that motor!” said Gus, as he raised the hood of the car. “It’s clean enough to put in your front parlor as an ornament! That’s the way costly machinery should be kept”