

“Look at your cylinder head and pistons,” said Gus. “The carbon is crusted on nearly a quarter of an inch thick. The valves are pitted, too. That’s what a poor brand of oil will do to a motor!”