

"WHERE is your lock?" Gus inquired. "Right there," said Thatcher, pointing to the ignition switch. "Why, that's no protection," snorted Gus. "You can get a switch key for most any car in the nearest garage"