

From the pages of a catalogue the new cars came to life as Gus, the veteran auto mechanic, explained their fine points and showed where they embody improvements in materials and design.