

"When Reilly got smashed up," Gus said, "it wasn't the fault of his steering gear. He had his eyes on a girl and ran into a pile of dirt in the street."