

Gus discovers a complication of little ailments that cause a radiator to boil in summer

"I suppose it steams on all the long hills," Gus observed. "Yeah," replied Hardy, "it sure does. Blows off steam like a teakettle by the time it gets to the top"