

"Inside the carburetor is a little pipe like the one on your garden spray," Gus explained. "Air rushing past pulls the gas out in a fine spray that mixes with the air so that you get a mixture that will explode."

Even a Flapper Masters Its Mysteries When Gus Likens It to a Garden Spray

